Monday — Before/After Reel

Wednesday — Maid Simple Reel

Friday — rotating slot

Tue/Thu — Story only

VO = one of the month's two voiceover Reels (Aug 7 and Aug 26). Every other Reel is trending audio or ASMR cleaning sound with text overlay. Saturdays and Sundays are fully off: no posts, no Stories.

Standard Hashtag Block — defined once, used everywhere

Paste as the first comment on every feed post (never in the caption), within one minute of publishing:

#TheMaidsOfVirginia #ReferredForAREason #maidservice #cleaningservice #housecleaning
#residentialcleaning #deepcleaning #professionalcleaners #cleaningtips #cleaninghacks #cleantok
#satisfyingcleaning #asmrcleaning #beforeandafter #cleaningmotivation #alexandriava #arlingtonva
#washingtondc #princewilliamcounty #manassas #northernva

21 tags: brand + the stated service area (Alexandria, Arlington, D.C., Prince William) + reach-focused cleaning tags. In the post blocks below, "First comment" always means this exact block.

Weekly Story Rhythm (repeats all month, Monday–Friday)

Thu	Engagement day: question box, answer round, or team behind-the-scenes	Question box or poll	Service / Our Team
Fri	Share the Friday post	Poll, slider, or Yes/No	Matches the slot: Reviews, Service, or Our Team
Sat–Sun	Off. No posts, no Stories.	—	—

Post-by-Post Details

Every post and story day of the month, in order. Captions are paste-ready. “First comment” always means the standard hashtag block defined on page 1.

MON AUG 3 BEFORE/AFTER REEL — THE GROUT COMEBACK
FORMAT	Reel, under 15 seconds. Dirty shot first, hold the after shot a full 2 seconds, branded cover applied before posting.
AUDIO	ASMR brush-and-foam sound or trending audio, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Watch three years of soap scum lose in 12 seconds.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Bathroom tile, grout, and tub. 0–2 sec: tight shot of dulled grout lines and a filmed tub edge. 2–10 sec: fast ASMR montage — grout brush, foam, rinse. Final beat: wide shot of bright tile, held 2 full seconds. Real footage, no filter on the after.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Soap scum and mineral film build up in every busy bathroom — that is not neglect, that is chemistry doing what chemistry does. Our team met it with the 22-Step Healthy Touch Deep Cleaning System and won. Watch the last frame: real grout, no filter. Which reveal should we film next — tile, tub, or glass? Tell us below. Alexandria, Arlington, D.C. and Prince William. Follow for a transformation every Monday.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a poll sticker: “Be honest — did you think that grout was beige?” Yes / 100%. Save to the Before/After highlight.

TUE AUG 4 STORY ONLY — REVIEW GRAPHIC #1
Brand-template review graphic (sapphire background, golden five stars, white quote text) featuring a recent 5-star review. Sticker: Yes/No — “Have you ever hired a professional cleaning team?” Save to the Reviews highlight.

WED AUG 5 | MAID SIMPLE #1 — STAINLESS STEEL

FORMAT	Reel, about 10 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	ASMR spray-and-wipe audio with text overlay. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Maid Simple: streak-free stainless in 10 seconds”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Close-up demo on a fridge or dishwasher front: microfiber cloth glides, paper towel comparison flashes briefly, finish on the streak-free panel.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Maid Simple, tip #1: microfiber, not paper towels, on stainless steel. Zero streaks, zero lint. Save this for Sunday reset. Follow for a new pro tip every Wednesday.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a Yes/No sticker: “Did you know this?” Save to the Service highlight.

THU AUG 6 | STORY ONLY — QUESTION BOX

One clean branded frame: “Ask a professional house cleaner anything.” Question box sticker. Prompt ideas on the frame: stubborn surfaces, product choices, room order. Answers feed next Thursday’s story. Save to the Service highlight.

FRI AUG 7 | SUDS AND SCIENCE #1 — BLEACH + VINEGAR (VOICEOVER REEL 1 OF 2)

FORMAT	Reel, 15–20 seconds. Series visual: two bottles side by side, big red X between them, bold text overlay. Branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Voiceover Reel 1 of 2 (calm, professional narration recorded off-camera) over soft music. Script: “Two bottles you probably own. Bleach and vinegar each clean beautifully — mixed together, they release chlorine gas. Different days, different buckets, always. Suds and Science, from The Maids of Virginia.”
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“These two are under your sink right now. Never combine them.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Text-forward safety explainer. Bottles labeled BLEACH and VINEGAR slide in, red X lands between them, key line appears: “bleach + vinegar = chlorine gas.” This is a save-and-share magnet.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Suds and Science, part 1. Bleach plus vinegar releases chlorine gas, which can irritate your eyes, throat, and lungs even in small amounts. Use them on different days, in different buckets, always. Our teams are trained on safe product handling in every home. Save this one and share it with anyone who mixes their own cleaners. Follow for more Suds and Science.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a Yes/No sticker: “Did you know this combination was dangerous?” Save to the Service highlight.
NOTES	Chemistry stays accurate and specific — chlorine gas is an irritant even at low levels; do not exaggerate beyond the caption language.

MON AUG 10 | BEFORE/AFTER REEL — KITCHEN, 22-STEP BRANDING

FORMAT	Reel, under 15 seconds. Dirty shot first, hold the after shot a full 2 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Trending audio or ASMR kitchen sounds, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	"We clean every kitchen in 22 steps. Watch."
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Time-lapse of a full kitchen clean compressed under 15 seconds: greasy stovetop first, then counters, sink, appliance fronts, with numbered 22-Step captions rotating on screen as the payoff to the hook. The numbered system is the differentiator no competitor can copy. Final wide shot held 2 seconds.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Grease never quits — neither does the checklist. This kitchen got the full 22-Step Healthy Touch Deep Cleaning System: every step, every visit, in the same order every time. Save this if you love a system. Alexandria, Arlington, D.C. and Prince William. Follow along — Mondays are for transformations.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a poll sticker: "Toughest kitchen opponent?" Stovetop / Microwave / Sink. Save to the Before/After highlight.

TUE AUG 11 | STORY ONLY — REVIEW GRAPHIC #2

Brand-template review graphic, different review than Aug 4. Sticker: poll — "What matters most in a cleaning team?" Consistency / Attention to detail. Save to the Reviews highlight.

WED AUG 12 | MAID SIMPLE #2 — CLEAN IN SECTIONS

FORMAT	Reel, 10–15 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Trending audio or ASMR cleaning sound, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	"Maid Simple: pros don't clean rooms. They clean sections."
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Overhead or wide shot of one room with a graphic overlay dividing it into quadrants. Each section lights up and gets a checkmark as it is finished completely — top to bottom, left to right — before the next one starts. Close with the full room checked off.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Maid Simple, tip #2: divide every room into sections and finish one completely before touching the next. Work each section top to bottom, left to right, and you never double back, never miss a corner, and never re-clean a spot you already finished. It is the single biggest reason a pro team moves faster than a whole afternoon of circling the house. Save this for your next weekend clean. Follow for a new pro tip every Wednesday.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a question sticker: "What spot does every cleaning lap somehow miss?" Screenshot the best answers for Thursday's answer round. Save to the Service highlight.

THU AUG 13 | STORY ONLY — ANSWER ROUND

Two or three branded frames answering the best questions from the Aug 6 question box and the Aug 12 question sticker (credit askers by first name only). Last frame: Yes/No — "Want more Q+A Thursdays?" Save to the Service highlight.

FRI AUG 14 | TESTIMONIAL REEL — JEFF E.

FORMAT	Reel, 10–15 seconds, branded cover before posting. Saved to the Reviews highlight via the story share.
AUDIO	Soft trending audio, no dialogue. Five golden stars animate in over real footage of the team working.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Like always, they exceed every expectation.” — the review itself is the hook, on screen from second one.
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Open on the quote in white on sapphire with five golden stars animating in beneath it, over footage of the team that cleaned that home: arrival, detail shots, the finished rooms. The rest of the quote and the reviewer's name land line by line.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	“Like always, they exceed every expectation.” Thank you, Jeff E. Referred for a reason — and this is the reason. Follow to meet the teams behind the reviews.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a poll sticker: “Best part of a freshly cleaned home?” Walking in the door / The smell / Not lifting a finger / The first shower. Save to the Reviews highlight.

MON AUG 17 | BEFORE/AFTER REEL — UPHOLSTERY, HEPA DEEP CLEAN

FORMAT	Reel, under 15 seconds. Dirty shot first, hold the after shot a full 2 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	ASMR extraction sound (very satisfying) or trending audio, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Some vacuums blow fine dust back into the room. Ours trap it.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	How HEPA filtration works, told through a transformation. Dull, dusty cushion close-up first, then a slow HEPA-vacuum pass revives the fabric color stripe by stripe; quick macro cutaway of the sealed filter canister; wide after shot of the brightened couch held 2 full seconds.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Sofas and carpets hold more fine dust than any hard surface in the house — and a vacuum without sealed HEPA filtration can send the finest particles right back into the air. Our teams run HEPA filtration on every visit: it traps 99.97% of particles at 0.3 microns, the hardest size to catch. So what leaves the couch leaves the room. Share this with the allergy sufferer in your life. Alexandria, Arlington, D.C. and Prince William. Follow for Monday transformations.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a Yes/No sticker: “Did you know a vacuum could put dust back into the air?” Save to the Before/After highlight.

TUE AUG 18 | STORY ONLY — REVIEW GRAPHIC #3

Brand-template review graphic, new review. Sticker: Yes/No — “Do you read reviews before trying a local business?” Save to the Reviews highlight.

WED AUG 19 | MAID SIMPLE #3 — WHY MICROFIBER LIFTS INSTEAD OF SMEARS

FORMAT	Reel, 10–15 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	ASMR wipe sound or trending audio, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Maid Simple: one of these cloths just pushes dirt around.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Side-by-side demo on the same greasy counter or mirror: a cotton rag smears an arc, a microfiber cloth strips a clean stripe in one pass. Macro cutaway of microfiber’s split fibers grabbing and holding the soil. Label each side on screen: COTTON / MICROFIBER.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Maid Simple, tip #3: cotton rags and paper towels mostly push oil and dust around. Microfiber is different physics — every strand is split into dozens of microscopic edges, and those edges plus capillary action grab soil and hold it until the cloth hits the wash. Same wipe, completely different result. Save this before your next dusting day. Follow for a new pro tip every Wednesday.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a poll sticker: “What is your daily driver?” Microfiber / Cotton rags / Paper towels. Save to the Service highlight.

THU AUG 20 | STORY ONLY — TEAM BEHIND-THE-SCENES

Photo of a four-person team's morning load-out: labeled caddies, color-coded microfiber, HEPA vacuum. Sticker: poll — “Guess: how many microfiber cloths does one team go through in a day?” 10 / 25 / 50+. Reveal the real number in a second frame. Save to the Our Team highlight.

FRI AUG 21 | SUDS AND SCIENCE #2 — VINEGAR AND NATURAL STONE

FORMAT	Reel or text-forward post, 15–20 seconds. Same visual system as part 1 (bottle, red X) so the series is instantly recognizable in the grid. Branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Trending audio or soft music with text overlay. No dialogue, no voiceover — the month's two voiceover slots are Aug 7 and Aug 26.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Vinegar cleans a lot of things. It eats marble.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Part 2 of the series: bottle labeled VINEGAR slides toward a marble countertop, red X lands between them, key line appears: “acid + calcium carbonate = etching.” Close-up insert of a dull etch ring that looks like a water mark but never wipes away.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Suds and Science, part 2. Vinegar is an acid, and marble, limestone, and travertine are calcium carbonate — the same mineral as chalk. Acid dissolves it on contact, leaving dull etch marks that look like water rings but are actually damage to the stone itself. No product fixes an etch; only refinishing does. It is why our teams carry pH-neutral, stone-safe cleaners for every natural surface. Save this if you have stone counters, and share it with someone who cleans everything with vinegar. Follow for more Suds and Science.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a Yes/No sticker: “Did you know vinegar can permanently mark natural stone?” Save to the Service highlight.

MON AUG 24 | BEFORE/AFTER REEL — HARD WATER VS. SHOWER GLASS

FORMAT	Reel, under 15 seconds. Dirty shot first, hold the after shot a full 2 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	ASMR scrub-and-squeegee sound or trending audio, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“The film on your shower glass isn’t soap. It’s rock.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	The science of hard water, told through a transformation. Clouded shower glass and a crusted faucet first, descale-and-scrub montage, one long squeegee pull as the reveal, then crystal-clear glass and gleaming chrome held 2 full seconds.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	That cloudy film on shower glass is dissolved rock: calcium and magnesium that stay behind every time a water droplet dries. Add soap and it becomes scum; add time and it hardens like stone. Our team dissolves it with the right chemistry, not brute force, then squeegees it to clear. Hold the last frame — that is bare glass. Alexandria, Arlington, D.C. and Prince William. Follow for Monday transformations.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a poll sticker: “Where does hard water hit hardest at your place?” Shower glass / Faucets / Kettle / Everywhere. Save to the Before/After highlight.

TUE AUG 25 | STORY ONLY — REVIEW GRAPHIC #4

Brand-template review graphic, new review. Sticker: slider — “How much does a freshly cleaned home lower your stress?” Save to the Reviews highlight.

WED AUG 26 | MAID SIMPLE #4 — DWELL TIME (VOICEOVER REEL 2 OF 2)

FORMAT	Reel, 12–15 seconds with an on-screen countdown timer, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Voiceover Reel 2 of 2 (calm, professional narration recorded off-camera) over soft music. Script: “Here is a pro secret: stop scrubbing. Spray, walk away, and give it five minutes — that is dwell time, and it is printed right on the label. Let the chemistry do the scrubbing for you. Maid Simple, from The Maids of Virginia.”
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Stop scrubbing your shower. Pros spray it and walk away.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Spray a shower wall, then the team literally walks out of frame; timer overlay ticks forward in fast-motion while the product visibly works, then one effortless wipe reveals the clean stripe. Side text: “the label tells you the minutes.”
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Maid Simple, tip #4: spray, then walk away. Every cleaner has a dwell time — the minutes it needs to sit wet and break soil down before you wipe. It is printed right on the label, and disinfectants do not disinfect without it. Spray the shower, go pour the coffee, come back to an easier job. Less scrubbing, better results. Save this one. Follow for a new pro tip every Wednesday.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a question sticker: “What should Maid Simple cover next?” Answers seed the September lineup. Save to the Service highlight.

THU AUG 27 | STORY ONLY — SPOTLIGHT TEASER

Candid photo of tomorrow's featured team member mid-task (no face required if they prefer). Sticker: poll — “Tomorrow you meet one of our pros. Guess their years on the team.” 2 / 5 / 8+. Save to the Our Team highlight.

FRI AUG 28 | TEAM SPOTLIGHT

FORMAT	Reel, 15–20 second day-in-the-life montage, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Upbeat trending audio with text overlay. No dialogue — names, years, and fun facts appear as text.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“Meet the team behind the sparkle” + name and years of service.
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Day-in-the-life montage: van load-out, the four-person team arriving, gloves on, favorite detail shots, a finished room. Overlay three text facts: name and role, years with the company, a personal favorite step of the 22. Swap in any August birthday or work anniversary as the featured moment.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	[Name] has been making Northern Virginia homes shine for [X] years. When we say referred for a reason, this is the reason. Say hi to [Name] in the comments. Follow to meet more of the team.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a slider sticker: “Show [Name] some love.” Save to the Our Team highlight.

MON AUG 31 | BEFORE/AFTER REEL — THE SEPTEMBER RESET

FORMAT	Reel, under 15 seconds. Dirty shot first in every room pair, hold the final after shot a full 2 seconds, branded cover before posting.
AUDIO	Trending back-to-school-adjacent audio or ASMR montage sound, text overlay only. No dialogue.
ON-SCREEN HOOK	“School is back. Your house can reset too.”
CONCEPT / SHOT PLAN	Whole-home montage, about 3 seconds per pair: entryway, kitchen, bathroom — each dirty-first, then its after. Final wide shot held 2 full seconds. Summer is the opponent here: sunscreen film, sand, snack crumbs.
CAPTION (PASTE-READY)	Labor Day week is reset week. Summer leaves its mark on every home — sunscreen, sand, snack crumbs, all of it — and one deep clean clears the board for September. Save this as your reset checklist: entryway, kitchen, bath. Alexandria, Arlington, D.C. and Prince William. Follow for transformations every Monday.
FIRST COMMENT	Standard hashtag block (page 1), posted within one minute of publishing.
STORY ACTION	Share the Reel with a poll sticker: “September reset — which room goes first?” Kitchen / Bathrooms / Entryway / All of it. Save to the Before/After highlight.

Suds and Science — Topic Bank for September and Beyond

The series is intentionally broader than product-mixing safety: any cleaning education fits. Accurate, specific, never exaggerated. Ready-to-film topics:

Next up in the series

- Why bleach and glass cleaner never share a bucket. Many glass cleaners contain ammonia, and ammonia plus bleach creates chloramine fumes that cause dizziness, shortness of breath, and nausea — the natural part 3 after August’s bleach + vinegar post.
- The baking soda + vinegar myth. Mixed together they mostly neutralize each other — the fizz is carbon dioxide leaving, and what remains is basically salt water. Great volcano, weak cleaner.
- Why dish soap cuts grease. Surfactant molecules have a water-loving head and an oil-loving tail; they surround grease droplets and float them away instead of spreading them.
- Why hot water cleans faster. Heat speeds the chemistry: soils dissolve sooner, surfactants work harder, and grease softens once it warms past its melt point.

September planning inputs already built into August: the Aug 26 question sticker (“What should Maid Simple cover next?”), the Aug 6 / Aug 13 Q+A round, and the poll results from every Friday story.
